Copyright is owned by the Author of the thesis. Permission is given for a copy to be downloaded by an individual for the purpose of research and private study only. The thesis may not be reproduced elsewhere without the permission of the Author.
STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES TALK ABOUT THEIR FRIENDSHIPS

A Narrative Inquiry

A thesis submitted in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Education at Massey University, Palmerston North

Angela R. Ward

2007
Abstract

This narrative inquiry explores the social experiences of four students with disabilities who were educated in four co-educational secondary schools in New Zealand. Over a period of two academic years, four students told their stories of their transition to high school and their experiences of friendships and social relationships in their classrooms, playground, and after school venues. Their parents, siblings, peers, principals, teachers, and teacher aides were also interviewed and together with school observations and relevant documents provide a holistic perspective to the students’ stories.

The students’ stories are foregrounded and re-presented in poetic form. Analysis of each student’s accounts are developed within a socio-cultural context that examines contextual factors that shape, support, or create barriers to their friendships and social relationships. These analyses are written as narrative responses within an ethic of caring. The research discusses the nature of social relationships between students with disabilities, and between students with and without disabilities, including bullying and rejection; contextual factors such as gender that shape students’ perceptions of each other; and aspects of curriculum and pedagogy that support or hinder social relationships. The agency of individual students in the processes of social relationships are analysed, and implications for further research outlined.

The study concludes that there are personal and socio-ecological factors that impact on the social experiences of students with disabilities. The findings suggest the need for teachers to examine values, attitudes, knowledge, and pedagogy in the context of their schools and adopt a multi-level approach to address the academic and social needs of all students.
Acknowledgements

I wish to thank the four students who told me their stories. They shared their experiences with me knowing that these would be shared with a wider audience and they were happy for me to observe them in school and to talk to their friends. Thank you Sam, Gemma, Adam, and Sarah.

I also wish to thank the students’ parents for supporting the study and sharing their perspectives. I also thank Rachel, Jim, Amy, and Karen for telling me their stories. To the five school principals, who welcomed me into their schools and shared their perspectives and to the many teachers and teacher aides who talked with me about their classroom experiences and permitted me to observe in their classrooms I extend my sincere thanks – their participation enabled me to present a holistic account of the four students’ experiences at secondary school. A special thanks to the liaison teachers in each school who collected documents, arranged interview and observation schedules, and organised staff consent forms.

My supervisors Professor Luanna Meyer, Dr. Marian Court, and Dr. Judith Loveridge accompanied me on this journey and provided enthusiastic and thoughtful guidance in the research process and structuring the thesis. They shared my vision of foregrounding the students’ stories and I acknowledge their support and guidance.

I also wish to acknowledge the wonderful support of my colleagues at the Ruawharo Centre particularly Anne Brown, Noreen Sharp, Peti Kenrick, Rosemary Richards, and James Graham. James read Chapter Eleven and provided feedback on cultural issues. Thanks also to Catrin Owen for her computer wizardry and photocopying, Ann Parker for her library expertise in sourcing references, and Glenda Thorby for transcribing many of the interviews.

Two Massey University Academic Study Awards and College of Education support when I was writing the proposal, coding the data, and writing the early chapters gave me much needed space to do these tasks and I thank the university for this.

Thank you to Dr. D. Jean Clandinin at the Centre for Research for Teacher Education and Development at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Canada for her time and wisdom as I explored the narrative inquiry process in the cold January of 2002, and to Heather Raymond and Paul Kohl for their warm hospitality.

To my family, Graeme, Melanie, Keren, Ben, and my mother Marion–you embarked on this journey with me and were always there for me every step of the way. My deepest thanks and love to you all.
Contents

1. Beginnings
   1. Narrative Beginnings
   2. Guy’s Story
   3. Retelling Guy’s Story
   7. The Place of the Researcher in Narrative Inquiry
      8. My Story of Being a Child at School
      9. Retelling My Story
     10. My Story of Being a Student Teacher
        11. Retelling My Story
     12. My Story of Becoming a Teacher
        13. The early years
        14. Teaching overseas
        15. Back in New Zealand
        16. Teaching in a secondary school
        17. Philip
        18. The support team
        19. Study and teaching
     17. Retelling My Story
     19. My Story of Being a Parent
        19. Children growing up
        19. Meningitis
     21. Retelling My Story
     21. My Story of Being a Researcher
        22. Retelling My Story
     24. Coming to Research and Narrative Inquiry
        24. Mapping the Research Journey

2. Reviewing the Literature
   27. The Nature of Friendship
      28. Theories of Friendship
      30. Stages and Processes of Friendship
      33. Young children’s friendships
      35. Adolescents’ friendships
      37. Role of schools
   43. Friendships of Children and Adolescents with Disabilities
      44. Relationships between Children with and without Disabilities
      45. Relationships between Adolescents with and without Disabilities
      49. Six frames of friendship
      51. “Helping” relationships
      53. Reciprocity
Proximity  53
Other factors  54
Rejection, neglect, and social isolation  56

Changing Paradigms  59
Intervening to Shape Friendships of Children and Youth with Disabilities  61
Intervening using a Social Skills Training Approach  62
Intervening by Manipulating the Environment  63
An Ecological Approach  64
Role of Inclusion to Support Friendships  65
Perspectives on Supporting and Shaping Friendships  69
Parents  69
Principals and teachers  72
Children and youth without disabilities  75
Children and youth with disabilities  78

Summary  79

3. Methodology: A Narrative Inquiry  82
Why Narrative Inquiry?  84
Narratives of Adults’ Experiences  86
Narratives of Children’s Experiences  88
Listening to the Voices of Children  89
Traditional research: disempowerment  89
A new view: student participation  91
A caveat: whose “best interest”?  93
Continuing my Narrative Research Journey  95
Multiple voices and crystallisation  97
The three-dimensional narrative inquiry space  98
Landscape  100

Entering and Being in the Field  101
Selecting the Schools  101
Hillview High School  103
Jade Valley High School  103
Mansfield College  104
Glover High School  104
Selecting the Participants  105
Hillview High School  105
Jade Valley High School  105
Mansfield College  106
Glover High School  106

Gathering Field Texts  107
Interviews: The Students’ Stories  107
Sam  108
Gemma  110
Adam 113
Sarah 115
Interviews: Parents 117
Interviews: Siblings 117
Interviews: Principals 118
Interviews: Teachers 118
Interviews: Teacher Aides 119
Interviews: Peers 119
Observations on the In-class and Out-of Class Landscape 120
Field notes 120
Journal 120
Documents 121
Constructing the Research Text 121
Analysis of the Stories 121
Software 123
Ethical Considerations 123
An ethic of caring 124
Narrative smoothing 126
Ethical dilemmas 127
Presenting the Research Text 128
Audience 128
Poetic Re-presentation 129
Sam, Gemma, Adam, and Sarah’s Stories 133

4. Sam’s Stories as Poems 134
Choosing a high school 134
His name is Andrew 135
Paul is a close friend 136
I used to be friends with Craig 139
Steven was new last year 140
There’s another boy, Callum 140
Friends in class 143
   In science 143
   I like PE 144
   In maths 145
   In geography 146
   In text and information management 146
   I enjoy working in groups better 149
We have family friends who live round the corner 149
Being with my friends at school 149
   Morning interval and lunchtime 149
   The cross-country 151
After school
  I play golf on Tuesday afternoons
  I’d like to play cricket
  Weekends
  Holidays

They didn’t like me much
  Martin
  Shane and Brad
  Paul hangs out
  John

I do have friends at the Learning Support Centre

A good friend is…
  Someone who listens…yeah

5. My Narrative Response to Sam’s Stories

Choosing a High School: ‘Cos all my friends were going
  Sometimes you just get lost

The Guy Syndrome: Some people will just go “hullo”

He’s my Best Friend
  Paul is a Close Friend
  New friends: I’ve really only started to be friends with Callum
    and Steven: He’s ok

Changing Relationships: We’re not friends any more

Classmates: He’s been my friend while I’ve been in class
  In maths
  John
  In art
  In English
  There’s (sic) boys that are quite nice in PE
  People don’t always talk anyway

The others are kind of friends but not real good friends

Conflict: I’m not really very good friends at the moment
  Shane and Brad
  Martin
  Paul hangs out with all those girls

Jason

I suppose I do have friends in Learning Support

We have family friends

Reflection: I think I’ve just grown up

They want me to be independent and all that stuff
6. Gemma’s Stories as Poems

I didn’t want to go to that school

I made a new friend with Sally

The other one was called Jack

And Sean

The other one was Stacey

There was another girl called Rochelle

There’s a certain crowd

I did fit but sort of I didn’t

The cool crowd

I don’t have a special friend

Olivia and Lisa are probably my closest friends

On their own levels

I’d probably tell my real personal stuff to…

The crowd I’m hanging out with now in seventh form

Most of my friends have left school

I got the whole ‘school boyfriend’ thing

Oh Simon likes you!

I’ve always known Evan

Brad hung out with my cousin at school

Rick was like a family friend

It’s really hard for me to find friends

The other students help me

I just got stick every day

Glen has changed now

A good friend?

Friends are good

7. My Narrative Response to Gemma’s Stories

Going to High School: I didn’t want to go to that school

Trying to fit in: shopping around

Looking for a crowd like me

Bad crowd…nutty crowd…cool crowd

The whole eyesight thing

‘Cos I sort of like I felt different sometimes

I got stick every day

I was like…I’m not going to hang out with you

Old Friends: They’ve all left school now

I got the whole boyfriend thing

My Group: Like they’re my people

Olivia is like my special friend
These are the levels that I put them in  241
The only frustration I think, is transport  245
Recurring Patterns: I sit by myself at Tech  246
On Reflection: Oh I'm all right  247
Look out for that!  248

8. Adam's Stories as Poems  249
The best school out!  249
Going to High School: I heard stories  249
Yes...I am part of the Taylor Block  250
At intermediate I only had one friend  250
BJ and Karen: That’s my main friends  250
Karen: She’s nice  251
BJ  252
Ben is the only friend not in a wheelchair  253
I make most of my friends...yeah...  253
Ben: he’s got an anger problem  254
I’ve got tons of friends  255
Yes...like five!  255
Seating: Mainly the front, yes  255
Nobody annoys us  255
Yeah, friends have changed  256
Karen: Yeah she’s still my friend  257
Oh, my other friend BJ’s still around  258
Oh Ben: I’m still friends with him sort of  258
The bullying’s got worse this year!  259
Some boy tried to tip me out of my wheelchair  259
It’s this other girl Kylie  260
Kylie’s just trouble  261
None of my friends are in any classes  262
Science: I’m in a group yeah  263
Social Studies...yes  263
Mr Chomley. Oh my goodness!  264
Sometimes they only listen to the teacher aide  265
English teacher: She’s not very good  265
Some people just hate disabled people  266
I’m not an “it!”  266
I got an Award!  266
So that might actually change a few pupils’ view of me  267
Most people will talk to me  267
At home I watch TV  267
9. My Narrative Response to Adam’s Stories 270
The best school out! 271
BJ’s the only one I knew from intermediate 275
Ben is sometimes a good friend 276
Karen’s she’s nice and she doesn’t like physio either 276
I’ve got lots and lots of friends 278
BJ in a wheelchair…and Karen in a wheelchair 279
Yeah! Friends have changed…It’s changed a hell of a lot! 280
Maybe her parents don’t like disabled people either 281
The bullying’s got worse this year 282
Does he do any work here? 286
No one in the Taylor block’s ever got one 287
I think it’s a nice place but… 288
Five that actually say hello to me 289
None of my friends are in any classes 294
She isn’t very nice 296
We’re going to some family…my nana’s house 297
My pesky little brother 297
He lives in Rosston so we can’t go round there 298
Friendship: Quite important 299
I’d rather be at school sometimes than at home 301

10. Sarah’s Stories as Poems 304
I moved from Seapoint High 304
I didn’t get on with my teachers at Seapoint 304
I wasn’t allowed to play netball 304
I didn’t achieve academically 306
Yeah I had lots of friends 306
Yeah…it took Mum a long time to agree though 306
So I made the big move to go to Glover 307
Old Friends: We’re sort of close 307
Going to a New School: The best thing was 307
It is a very good school 307
They’re there to help you 308
My science teacher [2003] 309
And my economics teacher [2003] 309
My maths teacher [2003] 309
My employment skills teacher [2003] 310
When they have a reliever 310
The principal…He’s cool! [2003] 311
Yes. He’s ok [Principal 2004] 311
I have a shared teacher aide 311
I don’t really have many friends in that class [Science 2003] 312
Ashley: I talk to him 313
Special Friends? 313
Yeah…I have a couple of “boy” friends 313
Yeah there’s a girl called Aroha 313
We’d always been friends [Amy 2003] 314
A Good Friend? 315
At intervals I don’t really do much [2003] 315
At intervals I go somewhere else [2004] 315
There are bullies at our school 316
Netball? No 316
I did mini Olympics 316
I also do kapa haka 317
Out of School Activities? 317
I don’t see many people 318
I do dishes 318
I’m always happy and cheerful 318
Reflection: I’ve sort of gotten used to it 319
Hospital…lots of times 319
I don’t care what I wear 320
When I leave school 320

11. My Narrative Response to Sarah’s Stories 322
The teachers and that (sic) weren’t very supportive of Maoris (sic) 323
I wasn’t allowed to play netball 324
I’m a lot happier: nice and supportive…good friends and stuff 328
Science…I don’t really have many friends in that class 329
At intervals I don’t really do much 333
Yeah, I go to wheelchair rugby 335
I also do kapa haka 335
I am Maori. I was brought up Maori. I know Maori 336
Best Friend: We’ve always been friends 339
Reflection: Because I am! That’s who I am! 342
Your Voice: It needs to be shared 345
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>12. Exploring the Threads</td>
<td>347</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friendships of Youth with Disabilities</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nature of Friendships</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frames of friendship</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friendship groups</td>
<td>351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purposes of friendships</td>
<td>352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bullying and rejection</td>
<td>354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Contextual Factors that Shape Friendships</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gender</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curriculum and pedagogy</td>
<td>360</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agency</td>
<td>361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Caveat</td>
<td>366</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conclusion</td>
<td>366</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>References</td>
<td>368</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Appendices

Appendix A: Letters

- A.1: Boards of Trustees                                           | 399 |
- A.2: Principals                                                   | 400 |
- A.3: Participating Student                                        | 401 |
- A.4: Participating Students’ Parents/Caregivers                   | 402 |
- A.5: Siblings                                                    | 403 |
- A.6: Teachers                                                    | 404 |
- A.7: Teacher Aides                                               | 405 |
- A.8: Peers                                                       | 406 |

Appendix B: Information sheet                                   | 407 |

Appendix C: Expression of interest form                          | 409 |

Appendix D: Consent forms                                       |      |

- D.1: Boards of Trustees                                           | 410 |
- D.2: Principals                                                   | 411 |
- D.3: Participating Students                                       | 412 |
- D.4: Participating Student’s Parents/Caregivers                   | 413 |
- D.5: Parents/Caregivers                                          | 414 |
- D.6: Teachers                                                    | 415 |
- D.7: Teacher Aides                                               | 416 |
- D.8: Siblings/Parents                                            | 417 |
- D.9: Peers and Parents/Caregivers                                | 419 |

Appendix E: Letter/information sheet – Class Peers/Parents/Caregivers | 420 |

Appendix F: Confidentiality agreement                           | 422 |

Appendix G: Interview schedules                                 | 423 |

Appendix H: Poetic representation                               | 427 |
Figure
Figure 1  The three-dimensional narrative inquiry space  98