ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Firstly, I have to thank my supervisor James Watson without whose continual guidance this project, without a doubt, would never have been completed. I would also have to thank Mum and Dad for providing me with the support and motivation to finish. Bob Luxford at the Rugby Museum in Palmerston North was an immensely helpful source of information and was instrumental in the completion of this thesis. I would also like to thank all those people who gave up their time for interviews and I greatly appreciated the help extended to me from other members of the History department.
