My sincere thanks go to Professor Kerr Inkson for his guidance and steady encouragement throughout this thesis. Kerr's experience and knowledge has been invaluable to me.

Thanks also to Graham Crews and to my friend Judi Campbell for being with me on the journey.

My special thanks go to my friend and colleague, Associate Professor Anne de Bruin who as a mentor and an academic model provides me with so much inspiration.

Lastly thanks to my family, Ian, Victoria and Gareth who put up with me even when the going gets tough and to Judith May for her wisdom and for being an absolute tower of strength.
